The site is great and quite useful. I've been enrolled in my company's nonqualified plan, deferring salary/bonus, for a little over a year. myNQDC.com served as a good resource for questions and ideas I have about my personal tax/cash-flow situation.

Very informative website about nonqualified deferred compensation plans, of which there is little information anywhere else.

Mark, Payroll Staff, Bechtel Corp.

So much about executive benefits tends to be scattered or overly complicated. I think you've done a solid job of overcoming both of those challenges.

Paul Steidler, Effective Communications, Inc.

Highly informative, well written, and reader-friendly.
